Regulation G

Adjusted EBITDA is a financial measure not prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"). Adjusted EBITDA is defined as EBITDA before discontinued operations (net of tax), impairment of long-lived assets, gain or loss on the disposal of assets and non-cash compensation expense. The company believes this non-GAAP financial measure, when considered in conjunction with the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure, provides useful measures of the company's operating performance.

Adjusted EBITDA is generally recognized by the broadcast industry as an important measure of performance and is used by investors as well as analysts who report on the industry to provide meaningful comparisons between broadcasters. Adjusted EBITDA is not a measure of liquidity or of performance in accordance with GAAP, and should be viewed as a supplement to and not a substitute for, or superior to, the company's results of operations presented on a GAAP basis such as operating income and net income. In addition, Salem's definition of Adjusted EBITDA is not necessarily comparable to similarly titled measures reported by other companies.
